Subject: NPHS Hopes You Are Well

Jahan!

I'm sorry I missed your visit. I was having knee surgery that day, but I would have loved to talk with you. I hope you're well and enjoying Washington politics. It's always great to hear how former students, now adults (gosh, I'm old), are doing.

I must admit, I haven't taken a lot of time to look into what the EPA has been doing this past year. Prior to sending this email I found an article on politico that has your boss's name in the headline and looked interesting, so I quickly read it. It doesn't seem to put a very gracious light on him or the people he works with. What's your opinion on how the Tar Creek situation was handled? If you don't want to reply, I understand. No problem. I just read the article today and thought it might be interesting to ask you about it.

Anyway, thanks for stopping by and I wish you the best of luck.
